Guest speaker Glen Hendley spoke of the success of the Oz-try program with all students returning to school this year

The program is aimed at students at risk off failing in studies, with attendance and behavior problems

It is mixed-useing music and group participation. Last year due to funding it was run part time. However with funds being available this year, Josh Stemson, as youth worker, will be able spend full time on the project and anticipate that this year more students will participate

Vote of thanks Chris Ralph
