Next weeks meeting program	CLUB FORUM

Ross Evans made a very nice cheeseboard out of a number of Western Australian Timbers. A competition to name them all and the Sergeant ensured lack of knowledge was costly

PE Ron announced that an agenda would be out next Monday in everyone's email for the Club Forum, thereby giving everyone ample time to think about the way we can move our club forward.

The Sgt then launched into everyone with the following fines:

- Anyone thick blooded enough not to be wearing a jacket
- Welcome back Bernie
- Wayne for having a Christ complex
- Vin hit a three wood and the club head finished behind him
- Anyone who didn't know that our newest Grandad is Ron Bradock
- Anyone who has been entertained by the Shire at Wongan Hills
- People who didn't know their timbers
- The Sgt then kept the cheeseboard

PE Ron announced that during the week he will be looking for 4 speakers for the club forum. Be prepared for a telephone call.

Colin Waters announced that there may be a small problem with Maddington Metro Shopping Centre because of a clash of dates with the Insurance coverage for the Bring n Buy. Colin has promised to sort this all out.

There being nothing much of interest left (Ron didn't bring any of his notes) we broke up into our committee meetings.

Rumour has it that several Rotarians went to a Chinese Restaurant last week after the Da Vinci Exhibition and that this is what one of the members found in his Fortune Cookie

The meeting closed at 7.15pm to go to committee meetings.
