Ross Evans came home on Sunday, ticker rhythm is under control to the extent that he is now complaining and he is now on email at evansys@iinet.net.au – hopefully all communication will now be through the airwaves and he will become the worlds internet expert. PE Geoff would talk to Ross about members getting him started

We had two visitors tonight – both with interesting stories. The first being Senator Peter Abetz form canning Vale, who wearing his church pastor hat was seeking assistance to move used hospital and educational equipment from Australia to the Solomon Islands.

The second was Robert De Prado from Neerigen Brook, who was diagnosed with wear and tear in both knees and list for two knee replacements. Roberts did some research and decided on stem cell therapy as an initial course of treatment. The therapy wasn't available in Australia so two weeks in Germany were required

The medical costs were $Au17, 000 plus travel costs.

The treatment were day procedures

The treatment was painless

The holiday was great

And after a month he is walking without a limp without assistance and without pain and says the procedure was successful. So there you go
